

Monday 10/30	Share a passage (a few sentences from the book) that shows an emotion or a mood. Visualize that emotion or mood. Draw a picture. PROMPT #1 <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ➤ Set up a new page. ➤ Date the page. ➤ Push yourself to write as much as you can!
Tuesday 10/31	BREAK NIGHT! Please read for at least 30 minutes!!!
Wednesday 11/1	IT'S DOODLE TIME!! Doodling is a great way to visualize your reading and your thinking! While reading your book, spend some time doodling about the content. Your doodles could be sketches, shapes, words, or cartoons and should include information about the people, places, or events covered in your story. Use color to enhance your doodles! PROMPT #2 <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ➤ Set up a new page. ➤ Date the page. ➤ Push yourself to draw as much about your story as you can!
Thursday 11/2	BREAK NIGHT! Please read for at least 30 minutes!
Friday 11/4	Awards ceremonies are a great place to find superlatives! Based on your reading, create an award for the best of something—the best villain, the best hero, the best problem solver—you name it! Whatever award you make, make sure to justify your choice! PROMPT #3 <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ➤ Set up a new page. ➤ Date the page. ➤ Push yourself to create a colorful and interesting award.
Weekend 11/5-6	BONUS BREAK NIGHT! Please read for at least 30 minutes!